375: What product managers should know about the future of leadership

Anne Loehr

Application Questions

1. What impact have you or your organization felt from trends that are changing leadership (e.g., longevity, people leaving businesses, diversity, freelancers)?
2. How is your emotional intelligence? What are your strengths and what areas could you improve (self-awareness, self-management, social awareness, influence)?
3. Describe how you, as a leader, have purpose, engage others, and inspire others.

Actions to Take

What to Do Now

- Be aware of the trends in the workforce and leadership and prepare to manage changes.
- Develop your emotional intelligence by practicing self-awareness, self-management, social awareness, and influence.

What to Do Soon

- Practice coaching by actively listening, asking how or what questions, and using forward-focused language.
- Find an accountability partner and make a plan to help each other develop leadership and communication skills.
