427: How to get your next better product job

Chris Mason

Application Questions

1. Are you looking for a more senior leadership position? What would your next better product job look like?
2. How important do you think domain knowledge is for product managers, as compared to transferable skills?
3. What aspects of work make you happy? What kind of challenge are you looking for?

Actions to Take

What to Do Now

- Keep your LinkedIn and resume updated. On your resume, write about your impact, referring to data and metrics.
- Reflect on what aspects of work make you happy and what sort of challenge you're looking for. Will having more responsibility make you happier?

What to Do Soon

- Build skills by continually learning, and consider joining a community and/or getting a mentor.
- Consider looking for a new challenge by moving into a new industry.
